

NLP Engineer Job Description template

NLP Engineer Job Description Template/Brief

As an NLP Engineer, you will be responsible for developing and improving Natural Language Processing models that power various applications across the company. You will work closely with a team of NLP Scientists and Software Engineers to deploy these models in production. You will also be responsible for conducting research to stay up-to-date on the latest NLP advancements.

NLP Engineer Job Profile

The NLP Engineer will be a part of the NLP team and work closely with NLP Scientists and Software Engineers. He/she will be responsible for developing and improving Natural Language Processing models that power various applications across the company. The NLP Engineer should have a deep understanding of NLP algorithms.

Reports To

- NLP Lead

NLP Engineer Responsibilities

- Research, implement and deploy NLP models that power various applications across the company
- Work closely with NLP Scientists and Software Engineers to deploy NLP models in production
- Understand NLP algorithms and how to apply them to real-world problems
- Conduct research to stay up-to-date with latest advancements in the field

NLP Engineer Requirements & Skills

- BS/MS in Computer Science or a related field
- 2+ years of NLP experience
- Deep understanding of NLP algorithms
- Experience with deploying NLP models in production